Youth group appreciates support of WPA

Enclosed please find our donation towards the [WPFA] Scholarship Foundation. It's our way of saying thank you for what the William Penn Association has done for our youth group. We appreciate your kindness to us, helping us obtain the lodge at Penn Scenic View for our summer youth trip. You are always so helpful to us!

Please forward our donation to the Scholarship Fund. We'd like to help others like you helped us.

In Brief

Seats available for 2009 WPA tour to Hungary

The WPA is sponsoring a trip to Hungary Aug. 12 to 26.

Lodging will be in four-star hotels. We will taste outstanding Hungarian food and wine and listen to the best "cigány" music. For many, we will visit the towns and villages of their ancestors, while others will revisit the place from which they departed for America. We will make sure that it will be a most memorable trip for all.

Space will be limited to 40 people. Please contact Endre Csoman, national vice president-fraternal, at 1-800-848-7366, ext. 136, for more information.

WPA team earns win in first game

The soccer team sponsored by WPA Branch 18 Lincoln Park, Mich., played its first game Jan. 4 and won by a score of 9 to 3. The team sent this picture to the branch with a note of thanks signed by the entire team. We wish them the best of luck.

Charitable Ideas

Help achieve an 'ordinary miracle'

MANVILLE, NJ - Two-year-old Jake Whitenight is, according to his mother Lynn, a "wicked smart" boy with a "warm and sunny personality." But, Jake would have a difficult time hearing such praise.

Jake was born with Bilateral Microtia, a malformation of the external ear and no ear canal opening which caused severe and profound bilateral hearing loss. He also had three holes in his heart, one enlarged kidney, one polycystic kidney, a cleft in the iris of his left eye and a skull deformity. He was also recently diagnosed with "failure to thrive," a condition in which a child fails to grow and develop.

Some of Jake's medical problems have healed on their own and surgery has restored some of his hearing. However, doctors say he still needs four more surgical procedures between now and the end of 2010 to help him continue to heal. Each surgery costs about $50,000.

To help offset the Whitenight's medical expenses--many of which are not covered by insurance--the entire Manville community has taken it upon themselves to try to help.

Various organizations are planning fund raisers, including a raffle for a new SUV, a benefit concert by performer Denny More and a golf outing at a local country club. Those trying to aid Jake and his family are now reaching out to those beyond the community for help in achieving what they're calling an "ordinary miracle."

Any financial donation large or small would be greatly appreciated.

Members and friends of the WPA wishing to help Jake and his family can send a check made payable to "Manville Reformed Church" and send it to the WPA Home Office, 709 Brighton Road, Pittsburgh, PA 15233. Please note "Jake Whitenight Fund" on your check's memo line.

Jake's parents, Lynn and Paul, have established a website where visitors can learn more about Jake, his current condition and efforts to raise funds for his medical treatments. The site can be found at www.jakewhitenight.com.

Scholarship recipients express thanks for grants and special Christmas gift

Last year, the WPA sent a Christmas surprise to each of our members who received a scholarship grant through the William Penn Fraternal Association Scholarship Foundation in 2008--a $25 Wal-Mart gift card. Here are some of the wonderful expressions of appreciation we received from these outstanding young fraternalists.

I wanted to take a moment to thank you for both my generous scholarship and wonderful Christmas gift.

The scholarship has helped me attend Creighton University, where I am a junior in excellent standing. My majors are international relations/political science and journalism. I am the president of the International Relations Club which participates in the United Nations Model Conference. My grandmother is Hungarian, my grandfather Maltese, and my biological father was from India. So it is no wonder I am interested in international affairs. My mother has always made knowing and understanding our family history and culture an important aspect of our lives, so we always have great food, stories, art and music from around the world at our home.

Up until recently, I worked part-time at a local law firm, but due to the economic downturn my position was discontinued, so I am very grateful for the gift card.

I have grown up hearing my mother and grandparents talk about how wonderful the William Penn Association is and how helpful it has been for them to save/invest money. I am very grateful for my family and all they have given me, and I am thankful they have the WPA to invest/save money with and share wonderful Hungarian recipes (which I cook in my apartment at school) and interesting articles.

I have enclosed a small donation ($5) for the scholarship fund, because I believe in giving back to those who help me and know some day I will be able to do more.

Allison M. Roy
Scottsdale, AZ

I just want to take a moment to thank you and your organization for the blessings you've provided me and my family this year and throughout the years.

First, I'd like to say thank you for the gift card as a 2008 scholarship recipient. That was most certainly a surprise and one I appreciated. (College students always need to stock up on supplies for the coming semester.)

Secondly, I want to share with you an annual Christmas thanks. Each year William Penn sends out gift bags to its members, and this year was particularly memorable for us. Among the gifts was a small light up glitter lamp that my younger brother treasured instantly. We spent much of that night gazing at the patterns on the wall in the darkness (and shaking and reshaking the lamps). They brought a lot of fun for us, and I quote him: "This is just the light of my life."

So, from my family to yours, I wish you a Merry Christmas and hope you find some surprises along the way.

Melinda Marconi
Ridgway, PA

I would like to thank you very much for the thoughtful $25 Wal-Mart gift card. It came as a surprise and will be put to good use.

I appreciate the scholarship that I received for my first academic semester at Mount Union College. It has helped pay for my books.

The Association has been very helpful to my family over the years, and I have been blessed with the support received so far.

Have a blessed and happy new year.

Brad Kunkle
Corland, OH

Thank you for the Wal-Mart gift card. It was a wonderful surprise when I arrived home for the holidays. Thank you also for helping me throughout college. I will be graduating from the University of Central Florida in May 2009. I was recently accepted into the masters program at UCF and am looking forward to starting in the fall. Your scholarship was greatly appreciated throughout the years, and I thank you for all your help. I hope you had an amazing holiday.

Katlyn Tissue
Pittsburgh, PA

Now that the pressures of finals for the first term are fading away in time, and the holiday rush as the restaurant that I manage is calming down to normal once more, finally I am able to take time to express my gratitude for your very kind Christmas gift.

The financial support you provide through your scholarship program was a significant contribution to my tuition expenses. The Christmas gift on top of the scholarship amount felt like a "Well done!" gift.

The only way to properly thank you for your generosity is to do as well as I can at Ohio Dominican University and be an ambassador for William Penn Association. It is for this reason I am even happier with my 4.0 GPA that I achieved this past semester.

May God bless you in your efforts to help us and future generations of students in achieving their dreams and fulfilling their potential.

Columbus, OH

Lajos Kossuth

The leading genius of the Hungarian Revolution of Independence
March 15, 1848

THIS YEAR MARKS the 161st anniversary of the 1848 Hungarian Revolution for Independence.

"The Fight" began the 15th of March on a glorious spring day in the Diet of Pozsony (then the capital of Hungary). Kossuth demanded that "the free soil of Hungary should be inhabited by free men." On the same day the Magyars in the city of Pest staged a massive demonstration demanding political reforms, Kossuth said plainly enough: "We wish to make the people of our country into a Hungarian nation."

The demands were accepted by the Diet, and a new Magyar parliament was formed, led by Lajos Batthyany as prime minister. Lajos Kossuth was sworn in as minister of finance. Hungary was transformed into a modern state, and feudalism was eliminated at once.

In recognition of these movements and sudden changes, March 15th subsequently became the Hungarian National Day. Sándor Petöfi, the great lyric poet, stood in front of the National Museum on this day in 1848 and recited his national song, "Nemzeti Dal." A crowd of thousands of people shouted the refrain with him:

*A Magyarok Istenére
Esküszünk, Esküszünk
Hogy rabok tovább nem leszünk.
(By the God of the Magyars
We solemnly swear
The tyrant's yoke we will no longer bear.)*

Ever since, March 15th has been observed by the Magyars wherever they may be as the Magyar's Liberty Day (Szabadság Harcunk Szimbóluma).

The Magyar struggle for freedom was short. The new government was forced to resign because of the invasion of Austria and the Russian army. Lajos Kossuth, with thousands of his followers, fled to Turkish territory. He visited the United States from 1851 to 1852, during which time he conducted a large-scale tour of public speeches and appearances. He expressed his famous thoughts on the very essence of democracy in his speech to the state legislature of Ohio on Feb. 7, 1852, in Columbus. It was quoted 11 years later by President Abraham Lincoln in Gettysburg: "All for the people, and all by the people. Nothing about the people without the people. That is Democracy."

The great Magyar apostle gave back his soul to his Creator on March 20, 1894, in Torino, Italy.

Are your beneficiaries

THAT'S A QUESTION YOU MAY not have asked yourself very often, if ever. But, it's one you should ask yourself once a year.

We can't stress enough the importance of regularly checking the beneficiaries listed on your life insurance certificates. It is the only way to ensure that the people you want to receive the benefits of your life insurance are the ones who will receive it.

Think about the changes that have occurred in your life since you purchased your life insurance. Getting married, having children, losing a loved one, getting divorced, getting remarried--all these life changes affect your responsibilities. Do the beneficiaries currently listed on your life insurance certificates reflect such changes?

If you think you need to update the beneficiaries listed on your certificates--either primary or secondary beneficiaries--contact your WPA representative. Or, call our Home Office toll-free at 1-800-848-7366.

Changing coverage

Things to consider before changing your life insurance coverage

ONE OF THE GREAT benefits of owning life insurance is that it is not a static investment. As your life circumstances and financial needs change, so, too, can your life insurance coverage be changed to best fit the changes in your life and finances.

While changing your coverage is not difficult, it should not be done without careful consideration. The Pennsylvania Insurance Department offers the following advice for consumers thinking of making adjustments to their life insurance.

Before you change policies, you should realize that replacements are not always beneficial. You should assess your needs and financial goals. If you determine that your current policy does not fit your needs, then you should carefully compare the benefits and costs of your current insurance policy with other options. Before replacing your policy, check to see if your existing policy can be altered to meet your needs. Ask your insurance agent to provide you with a written list of advantages and disadvantages of replacing your policy.

In most cases, an agent will show you illustrations (charts) outlining the attractive growth potential of the new policy. Be sure that you understand how many years it will take to reach the earnings potential in the illustration. Remember, since illustrations are often based on nonguaranteed assumptions, such as fluctuating interest rates, you should focus on the guaranteed cash or account values of the new policy and compare them with the values of your current policy.

Your old policy may have some provisions and benefits not found in the new insurance policy. Make sure that you are aware of all the benefits of both policies and review the premiums.

The cost for the same coverage on the new policy may be higher since the premium is based on your current age and health. The new policy's cash values and dividends may initially be lower because of the costs of issuing a new policy.

Your agent also should point out any tax implications. When your life insurance policy is "cashed in" or replaced with another policy, your gain may be subject to taxes.

During the first two years of a new policy (the contestable period), a company may contest a claim on a policy because of material misrepresentations. For example, the company could challenge a death claim for possible misstatements in the new policy application. Question your agent about the contestable period.

If you decide to replace an existing policy, the agent is required to give you a Notice Regarding Replacement of Life Insurance and Annuities no later than the date the application is taken. This notice is for your protection and you should read it carefully. It will alert you to possible consequences of replacement.

The agent must include, as part of each application, a list of existing life insurance policies and annuities to be replaced. You are best protected when all policies are accurately listed.

When you purchase a new policy with funds from existing life insurance, you should sign the appropriate form permitting the company to transfer money from your old policy to the new one. Failure to do so could result in adverse tax consequences to you.

Cookie crash course

FÁRADJON BE A MAGYAR KONYHÁBA.

Many changes will be taking place with my column during the next few months.

I am vice chairman of the Fraternal Activities Committee and have offered to write about upcoming fraternal activities in an effort to boost attendance. While the committee does not have the final say on what happens, we are making an effort to provide the best we can for our members. If you ever have any suggestions or special requests, I'm all ears. So contact The Hungarian Kitchen, and we will talk.

That being said, The HK will shrink down to two pages, but won't stay that way forever. You can always find more of The HK at www.hungariankitchen.com with expanded versions of the columns you see in print. My third page will keep you, the members, informed about fraternal happenings at the WPA.

And now your trivia: What happened with cookies on Feb. 7, 2001, in the state of Pennsylvania? The delicious answer waits.

And into the kitchen we go....

There are eight different types of cookies that you can make.

BAR cookies, as the name implies, are created by forming the dough into a bar shape which is then baked whole then sliced. Hermits and biscotti are examples.

ROLLED cookies are made mostly at Christmastime. You roll out the dough then use cutters to make the festive shapes you want.

MOLDED cookies are dough shaped or portioned into equal sizes then baked. Shortbread cookies fit this description.

SHEET cookies are baked on a sheet pan then portioned out. Lemon squares, brownies, blondies and other fruit squares fit this category.

DROP dough or batter cookies, like chocolate chip or oatmeal raisin, are made by allowing the batter to drop off a spoon.

ICEBOX cookies are made with dough that has been colored, refrigerated then baked. The cold keeps the dough together so you can make designs like checkerboards or swirls for dramatic effects.

PIPED or pressed cookie dough is soft enough to pipe from a pastry bag or a cookie press. Small butter cookies with ridges and other shapes are good examples.

STENCIL cookies are made from a paste using a flat stencil. They can be twisted or shaped while still warm before they completely cool. A fortune cookie is a good example of a stenciled cookie.

Making cookies is like making a cake, only there is less liquid in cookies. Less liquid means less gluten formation. The gluten struc-

Dinner for 4

Baked Four Cheese Pasta

1 pound cooked penne pasta
4 cups whole milk
1½ teaspoons kosher salt
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
2 cups grated sharp white Cheddar cheese
2 cups grated Asiago cheese
2 cups grated Fontina cheese
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup bread crumbs
1 cup heavy cream
Roux to thicken

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter a 9 x 12 baking dish or 2½-quart casserole dish. In a medium saucepan, heat milk until simmering, then add roux to thicken. Mixture should be slightly thicker than heavy cream. Remove from heat and stir in one cup each of Cheddar, Asiago and Fontina cheeses. In another mixing bowl, pour this sauce over pasta, tossing to coat evenly. Place half the coated pasta in the baking dish and top with remainder of Cheddar, Asiago and Fontina cheeses. Cover with remaining pasta. In a small mixing bowl, toss together breadcrumbs, Parmesan and remaining butter. Pour heavy cream over pasta mixture and evenly distribute breadcrumb mixture over the top. Bake until top is bubbly and golden brown about 30 minutes.

The Hungarian Kitchen

ture in dough gives the product distinctive characteristics.

CREAMING recipes call for creaming the fat and the sugar, adding eggs, dry then wet ingredients to produce dough.

ONE STAGE recipes have everything put into a bowl then mixed at the same time. The dough is usually stiff to work with.

SPONGE METHOD dough has eggs and sugar combined to form foam, which is the sponge. Other ingredients are folded into the sponge creating a lighter type of cookie.

If you want CRISPY cookies, use a recipe with less liquid to give you less gluten, more sugar, more fat and a longer baking time to evaporate more moisture from the dough.

For SOFT cookies, use more liquid to expand the gluten with low sugar, low fat and underbake your cookies. Store these cookies in an airtight container so they stay soft.

CHEWY cookies can be made using a recipe with high sugar, more moisture and more eggs for a real strong gluten structure. Store these cookies in an airtight container so they don't dry out.

So, the next time you make cookies, try one of the types mentioned and make them chewy, soft or crispy. Congratulations to you all for passing the crash course about cookies.

Trivia answer: On that date, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania made chocolate chip the official state cookie.

Have a great month and support your branch!

Hungary facing worst recession since fall of Communism

BUDAPEST -- Hungary's economy will contract by 4.5 percent in 2009 and could see its GDP fall another 2.5 percent in 2010, according to a prognosis recently released by Hungary's National Savings Bank (OTP).

"We cannot see the bottom of the pit. The Hungarian economy is facing a huge recession," OTP concluded from its latest research. The most recent analysis is even more dire than the gloom-filled projections of Hungary's central bank (NBH) which projects Hungary's GDP to fall by 3.5 percent this year and 0.5 percent next year.

If OTP's forecast comes true, it would be the gravest economic recession the country has faced since the fall of Communism.

The projections for Hungary's immediate economic future pale in comparison to predictions for its neighbors. OTP forecasts the GDP's of Poland, the Czech Republic and Slovakia will all rise by between 0.4 and 2.5 percent this year and between 2.3 and 3.1 percent in 2010.

The sharp decline in output is only one of Hungary's worries. The value of the nation's currency, the forint, has plunged against the euro and may not recover even by the end of 2010.

The government is working on a package of changes to the tax, pension and social systems, but leading economists claim the measures as they now stand would not help boost Hungary's growth potential considerably.

Branch 15 Chicago, IL

by Eva Laczina-Voris

The officers and members of Branch 15 Chicago would like to extend our sincere congratulations to the William Penn Association on celebrating 123 years of dedicated service to its members.

Branch 15 Chicago has also served its members for many years and continues to do its best for the Association. Over the many years since our branch was born, we have participated in a host of fraternal events, such as bowling tournaments, celebrations with family and friends, branch-sponsored Christmas parties and other occasions like the Grape Harvest Ball (Szüreti Bál).

We continue to maintain a strong relationship within the Hungarian-American community, working closely with St. Stephen King of Hungary Church in Chicago, where most of our events are held.

We wish much continued success to the William Penn Association for many more years to come.

Thank you for everything you've done for us, the branches and the Association alike.

Hasn't this winter been an absolute bear? I am here in Florida, and it was even a bear down here. But, I think we are all on the upswing by now.

Branch 18 is still on winter break mode. We will resume our monthly branch meetings on Wednesday, April 15, at 7:00 p.m. We continue to meet at the Hungarian American Reformed Church on Allen Road in Allen Park. Hope you plan on joining us. We have a full schedule as usual.

They had a truly fantastic wedding at the Radisson in Cape Canaveral. A wonderful time was had by all. Good luck, David and Jamie. You are surrounded by so much love you can't fail.

Debbie, Glenn and Bishop Wolfe are also on a cruise. Maybe one of these days we will do that together.

Please remember our members who are suffering from ill health, especially Doug and Carol Truesdell, Arpad Antal, Rudy Korpak, Rocky Happy St. Patrick's Day to the Irish on March 17. But, you know, everyone is Irish on this day as we wear the color green. So, why not treat yourself, your family and your friends to some Irish specialties. I am sure you will enjoy them.

Here are two interesting facts about St. Patrick you may not have known: he was not born in Ireland, but in Britain, and he died in the fifth century.

Branch 800 members have approved a $500 donation to be sent to the Rev. George Koharchik, chaplain at St. Dismas Parish located inside the prison in Huntingdon, Pa. The funds will be used to purchase items which will help enhance the spiritual life of the prisoners.

Hello to our branch members who have taken up residence in other states. We pray that you and your families are in good health. If you haven't been back to central Pennsylvania for many years, you would be surprised if you do visit. There have been many changes to the landscape, roads and businesses here.

I had a very enjoyable and interesting conversation with member Rodger Frank. He is looking forward to celebrating his 80th birthday in March. God bless you, Rodger, and I hope you have many more.

I am sure we are all waiting for the beautiful spring weather which will soon be upon us. Spring arrives March 20. It will then be time to think about doing the annual spring cleaning of our houses and yards, after which we can relax and enjoy the summer months ahead.

Let us remember in our prayers those men and women serving our country in the military. May they return home safely and soon.

Call Bob Jones in Altoona at 814-942-2661 for your life insurance and annuity needs. The WPA offers plans suited for every member of your family.

Happy Easter to all our members and friends from your branch officers.

Here we are...it's March and time to spring ahead with daylight savings time. Welcome to new members, Braylon and Briggs Beckwith and Bailey Smith. They are the grandchildren of John and Amy Beckwith. We at the WPA are happy to have you as new members. In addition, happy birthday to Amanda Beckwith!

I recently met with a member in Pittsburgh by the name of Pete Kuhn. He wanted me to tell all his fraternal friends who were members of The Catholic Knight's of St. George that he sends a very warm hello to all.

There's not too much going on with Branch 8114 this month, except members having birthdays. Celebrating this month are: Veronica Huefner, Doris Cherico, Ed Groner, Christopher Paul, Megan Ochs, William Hamacher, Victor Cherico, Patrick Aaron, Mary Lou Delaney, Mary Ann Groner, Marjorie Hargenrader, Maximilian Bagileo, Bridget Bagileo, Elizabeth Kindel, James Amato, Lloyd Pontzer and Vance Slike. Happy birthday and best wishes for everything imaginable to make your life happier!

Life insurance is designed to protect a family from financial burdens. The WPA has a low cost plan for every need. I am available to help you by reviewing any commercial life insurance policy or annuity that you may have, free of charge. If you have any questions on a 401K direct rollover, IRA transfer or any pension plan, please keep in mind that there is no sales charge, and I work in any area. I can be reached at 412-821-1837 or P.O. Box 15060, Pittsburgh, PA 15237. Or, email me at noreenbunny.fritz@verizon.net.

OUR AWARDS LEAD TO FAR GREATER REWARDS

The rewards that come with a higher education are priceless. That's why since 1972 the William Penn Association has awarded more than $1.5 million in scholarship grants to its young members attending accredited institutions of higher learning. Our scholarship program is just one of many benefits available to our members. To learn more on how membership in the WPA can benefit your family, call your local WPA representative or our Home Office, toll-free at 1-800-848-7366.
